

ACCOLADES
August 2006

About Andrea England

Since the release of her debut CD, Lemonade - a catchy collection of rootsy, hook-filled songs written with the heart, passion and sense of fun of a convinced, and convincing, artist - Andrea England's been a very busy woman.

Since its release, Lemonade has garnered three Nova Scotia Music Award nominations, including Female Artist & New Artist Recording of the Year, won the Pop Rock Award at the 2005 Toronto Independent Music Awards, in addition to being as being placed on the 1st official ballot in 7 categories - including song, album, record and best new artist - for the 2006 GRAMMY Awards. Acknowledged for her songwriting by the John Lennon International, USA, OCFE and CMT/NSAI Songwriting Competitions, Andrea's songs have also appeared on the CBS TV series "Joan of Arcadia," ABC Family's "Beautiful People," and the most recent Dawson's Creek DVD. Andrea's song "Sometimes" was the fastest song to reach #1 on the nationally syndicated "East Coast Countdown" in 2005.

In the past 18 months, Andrea has collaborated on many projects in addition to her own, including invitations to pitch songs to established artists as well as co-writing with developing artists; she also has multiple songs featured in the upcoming feature film, "Hooked on Speedman." Andrea counts among her current and past collaborators Curtis Richardson (J. Lo), Bruce Brody (Lone Justice, U2, Maria Mckee), Andrew Fromm (Mark Anthony, BS Boys), Andy Stochansky, Liz Rodrigues, Bryan Allen (Heart), Luke McMaster, John Keller and many others.

In addition to all of this, Andrea is a captivating live performer; having shared stages with a multitude of artists, among them Gordie Sampson, Martha Wainwright, Damhnait Doyle, Ashley MacIsaac, Bruce Guthro, Liam Titcomb and many others.

Between hosting a successful monthly songwriter "in the round" series in Toronto - Songwriter Central @ C'est What" with Andrea England & Friends - and co-writing and performing in New York (recently, at legendary Greenwich Village songwriter venues the Bitter End & the Living Room), Andrea is currently writing for her sophomore album.

For more information, email info@andreaengland.com or visit www.andreaengland.com today!